Ergo Project: White Paper Now Available for Download

The MTF Ergonomics Project: Phase One Report, "white paper," is now available for download!

One of the most common reasons why massage therapists leave the industry is because of injury. MTF's self-funded Ergonomics Project aims to provide the profession with information which improves workplace safety and efficiency for therapists and inspires further research.

Learn more about the research data gleaned during Phase One of the project and ways in which it may benefit your practice.
